《3rd Session》

History of Technology-Based economic development in Pittsburgh, and Carnegie Mellon University startup support

Reed McManigle
Center for Technology Transfer &
Enterprise Creation, CMU

An overview will be provided on the entrepreneurial support system that now exists within Carnegie Mellon University as it seeks to address the challenges of fostering startups out of a research university in a 'fly-over' location. Adjustments to the support system that have been made due to COVID-19 will also be discussed.
